

THE JAPAN SOCIETY

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

We are very pleased to report that the Society is alive and well and actively organizing programmes and events in order to ensure that it remains firmly established as Canada's pre-eminent organization dealing with relations between Japan and Canada.

Membership in the Society brings with it significant opportunities to grow your knowledge of and involvement in the Japanese/Canadian dialogue. We will continue to provide information about economic, political, financial and cultural practices and activities relevant to your understanding of the synergies between our two great countries.

The Society will provide lectures, presentations, symposiums, social and cultural events with the intent of helping you establish relationships and an understanding of the challenges and opportunities that exist. Representatives of the international business community, the governments of each country and academia, all steeped in the economic, political and cultural fabrics of each country, will equip you to participate in the fostering of greater mutual understanding, thereby creating an improved business climate for companies of both nations.

There are various levels of membership, details of which are provided on the reverse of this application form. In order to apply for or renew your membership, we would ask you to complete the information set forth below and return this form to the Society with your cheque or bank draft in payment of the relevant annual fees.

All membership levels of the Society receive reciprocal benefits offered by the thirty-eight associations which are members of the National Association of Japan-America Societies (NAJAS). NAJAS is a private, non-profit organization, representing over 15,000 corporate entities, which works to strengthen co-operation and understanding between the peoples of Japan and the United States by providing programmes and services and exchanging information, ideas and speakers amongst its member Societies. The Japan Society is a member of NAJAS.

In time, we will provide on the Website private Members-only access to a number of benefits, including hotel and airfare arrangements, online.
